Notes and guidance

A high-quality art and design education should engage, inspire and challenge pupils, equipping them with the knowledge and skills to experiment, invent and create their own works of art, craft and design. As pupils progress, they should be able to think critically and develop a more rigorous understanding of art and design. They should also know how art and design both reflect and shape our history, and contribute to the culture, creativity and wealth of our nation.

Aims

The national curriculum aims to ensure that all pupils:

- produce creative work which reflects exploration of their ideas and experiences.
- become proficient in a range of art techniques.
- be comfortable in evaluating and analysing creative works using the appropriate language of art.
- know about great artists, craft makers and designers understanding the historical and cultural development.
